Range Creek, 9-Mile Canyon, & the San Rafael Swell

Range Creek has been referred to as "The Secret Canyon." It has been the subject of documentaries on Scientific American, KUED Television, and Time Team America. Stories have appeared in numerous magazines like National Geographic and Smithsonian.

9-Mile Canyon has been called the longest art gallery in the world. Some of the most famous petroglyphs in the world can be found here.

The San Rafael Swell boasts everything National Parks have, except the crowds. Your tour will cover 2,000 years of history.

These canyons were the home of the Fremont Indian culture for over a thousand years. They mysteriously disappeared about 800 years ago, leaving behind innumerable clues to their rich history.

Tucked into an isolated canyon in Eastern Utah, Range Creek Canyon was virtually unknown to the world for a hundred years. In 2003 the owners sold the property to the state of Utah. The canyon is now managed by the University of Utah Museum of Natural History.

Carbon Rec has been doing tours in 9-Mile Canyon and the San Rafael for over 20 years and in Range Creek Canyon for seven years.

You will travel in air-conditioned vans from Price. Layne Miller and/or Bo Christensen will be your guide(s) on this remarkable journey through time. Layne has been guiding heritage tours for over 20 years. His many stories add significantly to your experience. Bo has been a guide for seven years and has studied the Fremont culture extensively. His youth, knowledge, and energy add unique perspectives to your tour.

The philosophy of Carbon Rec 435-636-3702

The mission of Carbon Rec is to provide recreation and lifelong learning opportunities to every resident of Carbon County.

We attempt to keep costs as low as possible in all our programs. Thanks to the County Commission and Carbon School District, fees are half that of many other communities.

People who are involved in wholesome recreational activities are happier and better adjusted than people who are not. We do not give cash prizes nor banquets. Prizes for league champions are modest in nature. Participation is always our emphasis, not winning.

Our goal is to exceed the expectations of every participant in every program. While that is not always possible, that is always our goal. If we come up short, we want to hear from you. While complaining does no one any good, constructive criticism can be very productive and is always welcome.

We will never turn a child away from one of our programs for inability to pay. If you can't afford a program for your child, ask us. We may be able to help.

We are proud to offer the most diverse recreation program in the state. Even so, we are always looking to broaden our offerings. It is our pledge that we will offer anything that fits within our mission and that the community will support. If you want to do something, call us. If you have a talent you would like to share with the community, call us. We are always open to new ideas.

Meetings resume January 17 at 5:30 p.m. It will be a planning meeting to set up activities, outings, and learning opportunities for the next few months. There will also be a class that evening at 6 p.m. on “The basics of Photography,” taught by Juanita McEvoy and Steve Christensen. If you got a camera for Christmas, if you’ve wanted to get more involved in photography, or if you just want to refresh some of the basics, this is your opportunity. This class concentrates on composition and exposure. The second session of this class will be on Feb. 21.

The group generally meets the third Tuesday of each month at the Carbon Rec office. Everyone is welcome, from beginner to professional. The objective is to share and learn. Classes/activities/outings are scheduled regularly. There is no fee for most activities.

Want to do something that isn't listed in this magazine? How about a river rescue course for your group, or a one-day river rescue refresher?

Maybe you have wanted to learn to row a raft, learn to kayak, or perhaps your interest is in learning the techniques necessary to make canyoneering or rock climbing safe.

We will do just about anything you can think of. Let us help you accomplish your goals.

Have an idea or a talent?

Is there something you have always wanted to learn to do?

Do you have a talent or skill you are willing to share with others?

The policy of Carbon Rec is to offer anything (well, almost anything) the community will support.

If you have an idea or you're willing to share your talent, give us a call. We'll do everything we can to help you accomplish your goal.

You have 10,000 digital photos and you can’t find anything. What do you do with them? End the frustration – get organized.

This is a do-it-yourself group. No one is paid. Classes and activities are free, unless there is a transportation charge. If you are willing to help by teaching a class or leading an outing, call Steve Christensen or email him at steven.christensen@carbon.utah.gov
